Dear Parents and Carers

Ofsted says: GOOD for Leadership and Management - 'Leaders are ambitious for pupils' at Rushbrook Primary Academy

Rushbrook Primary Academy has just received the report, following its latest inspection by Ofsted, which includes many highlights and praise for leaders, staff and pupils all of which provide additional encouragement to an already strongly committed 'Team Rushbrook' helping the school on its journey of improvement.

Some of the standout comments are highlighted below:

- Pupils, including those with special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND), are happy to belong to this diverse and welcoming school community.
- Leaders are ambitious for the pupils. They have established clear priorities and are taking appropriate action to improve the school further.
- Pupils said that staff are caring and will listen to any concerns that they may have.
- Leaders have ensured that pupils, including pupils with SEND, access a suitably broad and balanced curriculum.
- Leaders plan carefully to provide opportunities for pupils to learn about equality.
- Pupils get on well together and make lots of friends.
- Pupils develop a strong understanding of the importance of respect for all.
- Pupils know that they have a voice.
- Pupils enjoy the wide range of clubs they can attend such as dance, art, hockey and choir to pursue their interests and talents.
- Staff share leaders' ambitions for the school.
- Governors are proud to serve the school community and they want the best for pupils.

Our Principal, Matthew Carroll, said:

"We are pleased that Rushbrook has been judged 'GOOD' in three key areas of: Leadership and Management, Personal Development, and Behaviour and Attitudes. We are also pleased that the Inspection team noted how ambitious we are for our children. These judgements are testament to the changes we have implemented so far and the positive impact these have had as our school
