Music in Key Stage 2

Children in Key stage 2 continue to develop and understand their depth of musical knowledge through advanced rhythms, the pentatonic scale and compositions, whilst also developing their performance and composing skills.

Our music curriculum is one of the central elements of shared culture in school. Shared knowledge of music is crucial to building on our cultural capital and understanding where we came from and our place in the world. An inclusive approach to this cultural capital is represented in our music lessons encouraging pupils to be open-minded in their listening as well as knowledgeable about the breadth of musical genres in the world today. Children learn about different pieces from a wide range of cultures and traditions that truly reflect the community in which they are living.
